CertainTeed CertaSpray™
Foam Insulation.

Isn't your home worth the best?

When you're building a home, you're faced with many decisions. From choosing carpet, cabinets and wall coverings, to siding, roofing and windows, every decision can have an affect on your home's resale value. In addition, some of these decisions can also affect the comfort and efficiency of your home—such as choosing the insulation for your home.

That's why many smart homeowners are choosing CertaSpray foam insulation, exclusively from CertainTeed. If you are concerned about comfort and energy savings, CertaSpray foam provides best-in-class performance, plus the confidence of a name you trust for the highest quality home building products, CertainTeed.

CertaSpray foam insulation provides you with:

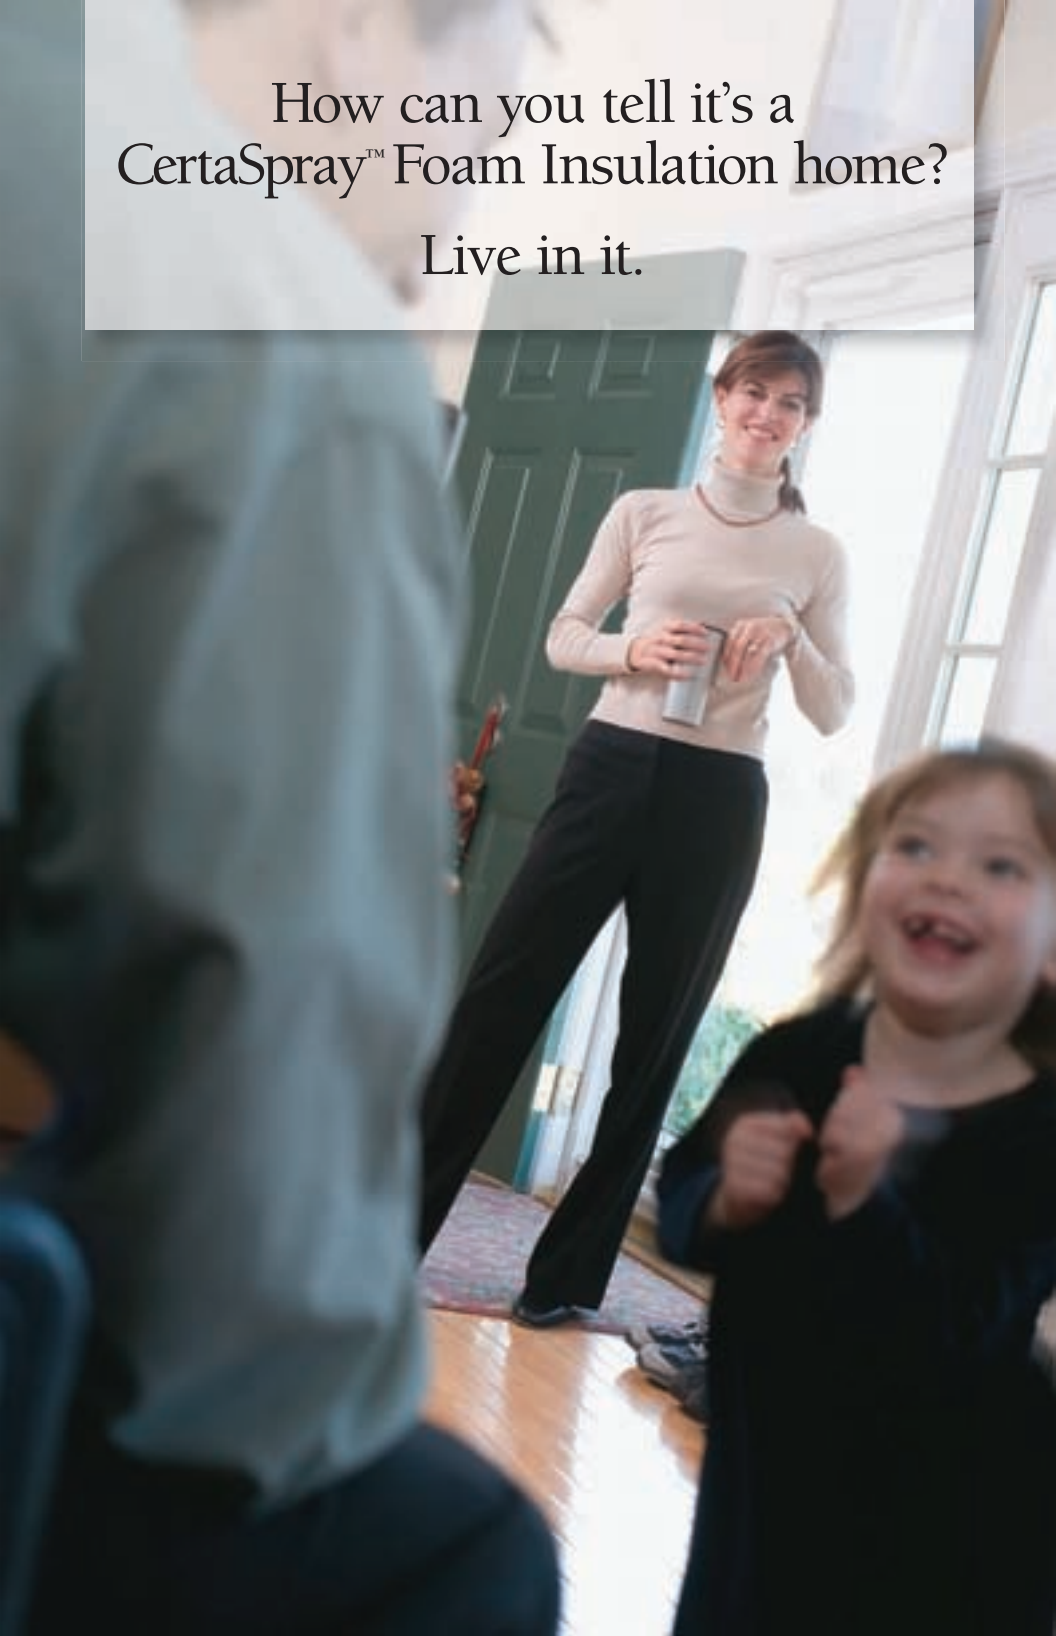

- Outstanding energy efficiency
- Peace of mind for the life of your home
- Excellent resale value
- Superior comfort and indoor air quality
- Part of an ENERGY STAR® Home
- Superior air sealing and thermal performance
- Excellent sound control
- Filling every void, especially irregular cavities
- Assurance from the nation's leading manufacturer of insulation

CertaSpray foam fills every void in the wall cavity to provide an effective air seal for outstanding energy efficiency, sound control and indoor air quality.

How can you tell it's a
CertaSpray™ Foam Insulation home?

Live in it.

CertaSpray foam insulation performs like no other insulation. CertaSpray foam is designed to provide an effective air seal, filling the common areas in a home where air leakage can occur. As a result, you can actually feel the difference in your everyday quality of life. From the way it improves indoor air quality to the way it reduces the sound transfer between rooms.

Save on your energy bills.*

Air leakage is a major contributor to energy loss in a home. CertaSpray foam is a spray foam insulation that expands to fill every opening that can potentially leak air. The result is a more energy-efficient living environment that can save you significant energy costs. CertaSpray foam helps meet the requirements for an ENERGY STAR® Home, your added assurance of energy savings.

Enjoy cleaner indoor air.

A more efficient home is also more comfortable. By reducing air leakage, CertaSpray foam reduces the penetration of moisture, outdoor allergens and pollutants that can affect indoor air quality, providing a more comfortable living environment for you and your family.

Keep unwanted noises out.

Because CertaSpray foam provides an effective seal, it diminishes noise coming from outside the home such as wind, traffic and planes, while also minimizing sounds from inside the home such as plumbing, playrooms and home theaters.

Without proper insulation you can actually see where air leakage is happening in your home. That's where drafts as well as hot and cold spots can occur, making your home uncomfortable, especially in extreme weather conditions. With CertaSpray foam, air leakage is minimized for a superior seal and more comfortable living environment.

You're smarter to choose
CertaSpray™ Foam Insulation.

Enjoy comfort and peace of mind.

CertaSpray foam insulation is your best choice for assuring the comfort and energy-efficiency of your home. No more drafts or hot and cold spots that can negatively affect your daily life as well as your energy bills. It's a decision you'll be glad you made for the welfare of your family.

Boost your home's resale value.

A well-sealed home is a better performing home. And that can affect your home's resale. Home inspections and lower energy bills will confirm CertaSpray foam's superior thermal efficiency. So investing in CertaSpray foam insulation not only enhances the comfort, energy efficiency and structural integrity of your home, it also can pay back again when it comes time to sell your home.

Enhance the life of your home.

The choices you make in building your home today can affect the health and safety of your family for years to come. Choosing CertaSpray foam insulation for your home is a decision you can feel good about.

Build in an effective air barrier and increase your home's structural integrity.

CertaSpray foam is sprayed into the wall cavity and expands quickly upon contact. It's ideal for complex cavities as well as small, hard-to-reach areas where air leakage can occur. With CertaSpray foam insulation in place, the overall thermal performance and structural integrity of your home is improved.

Ideal applications for CertaSpray foam.
