Quiet and Comfort

The outside world stays outside in a home sided with CedarBoards Insulated Siding. The innovative foam backing reduces exterior noise, enhancing interior acoustics. CedarBoards integral foam increases your home’s energy efficiency, providing an extra measure of comfort for your interior spaces. CedarBoards can also increase the overall thermal performance of your home, helping to reduce annual heating and cooling costs.

Standardized testing showed a range of increased R-Value from 2.0 to 2.7; modest reductions in thermal bridging; average air tightness of 11%; and 1%–11% range of utility bill savings nationwide.

1 Look for color palette ideas in your surroundings, including landscaping, trees and gardens in your neighborhood and the larger area where you live. The colors you pick for your interior walls can also influence your exterior walls.

2 You may be inspired by your neighbors’ color schemes, but it is a good idea to avoid copying them exactly and best to create your own unique combination that sets your home apart. In most cases, you want your home to fit in but not clash with nearby buildings.

3 You need to first consider the appearance of any features on the home that will remain unchanged and harmonize your siding color with them. This includes roofing, masonry, stone, stairways, doors, etc.

4 If your home’s architectural style is very distinct (Colonial, Greek Revival, etc.) you will get best results if your color selection and treatment complements its original design.
